I think there is way too much violence on television, and this harms our children. In fact, I think there is too much violence on television, and this also harms adults. One of the many reasons I do not watch television is because of all the violence. Unfortunately many of my fellow citizens continue to give their attention to television and even though I do not abuse myself in this fashion, I still must suffer the effects of all of the violent television programming on our society at large. Please take steps to discourage violence on television. Thanks!
